

Tosho Computer Systems and Quod Financial partner to provide automated trading systems for Japan

London and Tokyo, 08OCT2018: Tosho Computer Systems (TCS), a provider of Financial Services hosting including connectivity to every exchange in Japan, IT Outsourcing and IR support services; and Quod Financial, multi-asset trading platform; today announced a partnership to provide both fully hosted and enterprise solutions for Japanese Equities, Derivatives and FX trading.

Japan is one of the main capital market centres in the world, with deep liquidity and domestic firms vying for the next wave of innovation. The partnership aims to bring a robust proven solution to the market, but more importantly allow participants to benefit from continuous research in trading technology and the revolution in Machine learning.

Within the joint-solution, TCS provides range of data, hosting, co-location and local capabilities to Japanese sell-side, buy-side and institutional clients including Tokyo Stock Exchange.

In addition to these, TCS provides an operating environment and IT support service enabling each client to easily deploy, use, operate, administer and maintain the Quod Financial multi-asset trading platform. This includes electronic connectivity to every trading venue, market data distribution and customer help desk service in Japanese.

Quod Financial provides an Adaptive Execution Platform for Execution / Order Management. This unique platform managing in a single solution direct market access, high touch and algorithmic trading / smart order routing for any financial institution. The next generation of analytics and transaction cost analysis is available to all clients, which is complemented by machine learning based analysis and automation such as algorithmic trading parameter optimisation. The client can also leverage the Quod Financial's buy-side multi-asset Execution Management System, for Equities, Derivatives and Foreign Exchange trading.

Medan Gabbay,

Quod Financial Chief Revenue Officer said "Partnering with TCS allows us to provide the best of breed software, market data, hosting and local presence for all Japanese sell-side and buy-side institutions. The Japanese market has witnessed huge changes which now demand innovative solutions and committed vendors. Partnering with TCS ensures our clients get local support combined with the very best technology. "

Morio Nakamura,

Tosho Computer Systems Chairman said "This partnership with Quod Financial gives us the opportunity to provide world's leading modular-based end-to-end multi asset trading platform equipped with high capabilities of adaptability, reliability and fault tolerance covering transaction cost analysis, machine learning and AI. Consequently, we are now able to introduce the necessary functions in a more appropriate form according to each customer's needs, and are proud to offer them to customers seeking greater price transparency, advanced order execution and solution with more higher investment efficiency in Japanese financial and securities markets.”

About Tosho Computer Systems:

Since its founding, Tosho Computer Systems is supporting systematization and diversification of securities industry by providing securities firms with various products and IT services for their front and back offices while supporting systems of Japan Exchange Group, Inc. and Japan Securities Depository Center, Incorporated. for many years. We will continue to provide highly value-added products and IT services to financial and securities industry by taking full advantage of these know-hows, experiences and achievements.

<https://www.tcs.co.jp/>

About Quod Financial:

Quod Financial, a Trading Platform provider, specialises in multi-asset trading for FX, equities and derivatives. Our Adaptive Execution Platform (AEP) is the comprehensive tool to address the tectonic shift in the financial side industry. The suite of products and services automates core trading, provides insight into executions, and reuses data to create intelligence.

<https://www.quodfinancial.com/>

Contact for Inquiry:

Koji Ishikawa, Masahiko Tatsuno
Marketing
Tosho Computer Systems Co., Ltd.
TEL: 03-5633-7600
E-MAIL: marketing@tcs.co.jp